About Us

Pooja Plast was started by respected Jitender Sharma in year 1996 Delhi (India). It has completed 30 years of service to our country. Standing on this milestone we are happy to note that Pooja Plast today enjoys the privilege of being the largest manufacturers of food packaging material in the small scale sector.

It is always about the transformation of ideas into reality, and the Pooja Plast have always managed to make the best out of the available resources, keeping both the customers and the environment in mind. The company has always strived to provide and continues to provide flexible and eco-friendly packaging solutions for various purposes.

The team is constantly on the lookout for manufacturing innovative products that are not just of the best in quality but also work out the best in terms of cost for the customers. We have products that will match up to different occasions and in colours that will be a subtle addition to your requirement too.

OUR QUALITY

Pooja Plast firmly believe in transparency and the best quality when it comes to delivering products. The packaging solutions we offer are for food, which means they have a great influence on the health of the consumers who use them.

Pooja Plast make use of the finest materials to make the products that are friendly to the environment and the health of our customers. The company stands by its core values as outlined below:

- Working together to achieve success.
- Caring for each other and the environment.
- Optimistic approach with complete transparency.
- Honesty and integrity in every step.
